LE MESSAGE DE LA PRÉSIDENTE

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE FEDERATION OF ALLIANCES FRANÇAISES USA

New Orleans will greet us this October for our Annual Meeting, slated for October 14-17, 2010. It is with a certain pleasure that we return to New Orleans after many years, to share in the renaissance of this special city whose French Heritage is one we continue to celebrate.

The Alliance Française of New Orleans and President Alexandra Stafford are planning a welcome to "NOLA" that I am confident we will all remember.

The Federation is at work preparing the workshops and other presentations that invite your participation and aid in the continuing success of your chapters. Sharing best practices and helping each other are the hallmarks of our Federation, we look forward to seeing you there.

Le Rendez-Vous du 18 Mars 2010

« The Andes By Bicycle »

Speaker: Bill Weidenfeller

The March meeting started off at 11h30 with Mimi presiding over the annual meeting. Following the annual meeting, guests were introduced, along with new members, and we were a fine group of 82 in attendance. After lunch, Bill Weidenfeller gave a very interesting power point presentation on his 40 day bike trip through Chili, Bolivia, and Argentina, with a quick tour through Uruguay at the end. Bill, accompanied by eight other bikers flew to Santiago, Chile and, after a brief stay, flew to Antofagasta, in the northern part of the country. From there, the bike trip began, first eastward into Bolivia, reaching altitudes of 15,000 feet, which caused some of the bikers to incur altitude sickness.

diverse landscape the bikers encountered, from arid desert to Andean peaks to lush forests. From Bolivia the trip continued into northern Argentina, spending time in Puramarca, Jujuy, Cordoba, Rosario and across the Uruguay River into Uruguay, a country, which, according to Bill, was created to keep the Portuguese Brazilians from cutting the throats of the Spanish Argentinians! For the same reason the Andes keep the Argentinians and Chileans at bay. The final trek took the bikers across the Rio de la Plata to Buenos Aires.

For more information on this type of vacation, contact Bill.

The power point presentation, both still and video, gave credence to the incredible scenery and

Le Rendez-Vous du 18 Février 2010

La Campagne de Russie de Napoléon 1er

Speakers : Mimi Gregory & Charles Deviterne

At the February luncheon Napoleon's Russian Campaign of 1812 was skillfully presented through a dialogue between 27 year old Adrien, Jean-Baptiste, François Bourgogne, an officer in Napoleon Bonaparte's Army, and Daska Ivanova, third cousin of Anna Pavlovna Scherer, favorite of the Empress Marya Fedorovna of Russia. Charles Deviterne, Vice President and Mimi Gregory, President, each wrote and then read their text portraying the two antagonists delineating the reasons for the attack and the horrible toll it took on both sides.

Russia's economy was being hurt by Napoleon's Continental System that banned trade with Britain and internal pressures forced Tsar Alexander to turn a blind eye to those who broke it. Bonaparte decided to bring the Russians back in line and gathered a grand Armee of more than 500,000 men, but the threat did not work because the Tsar ordered two Russian armies to protect the Motherland. His armies retreated to the outskirts of Moscow where General Mikail Kutusov set up defensive positions with 120,000 men, against 133,000 invaders. A brutal battle ensued with a loss of almost half of each army until Kutusov retreated into a burning Moscow, which Daska Ivanova complained was set on fire by the Russians themselves. Bonaparte waited five weeks for the Russian surrender, which never came. Against advice to go through a better supplied route Bonaparte sent his men back through the already plundered Smolensk. Then the snows arrived, together with hunger and cossack attacks that Bourgogne described as horrific. Eventually the French were almost destroyed when crossing the river Beresina but after a two day battle the Russians allowed what was left of the army to leave. When Napoleon crossed the Niemen out of Russian territory he returned to Paris with only 20,000 of his faithful soldiers.

This tragedy could be explained by Albert Camus, who wrote, "For the (Greek) chorus knows that up to a certain limit everyone is right and the person, who from blindness or passion, oversteps his limit is heading for a catastrophe if he persists in his desire to assert a right he thinks he alone possesses." Such a comment does not apply to one leader or country in history but to all of us today. Mimi and Charles were roundly applauded for a thought provoking presentation.

Alliance Française Euro Book Club

The Euroreview of Contemporary European Literature

Based on the great success of the European Book Clubs at the Alliances Françaises in Washington and New York, our Alliance chapter here in Bonita Springs can join this trend in offering our membership the opportunity to discover what is happening in European literature today.

The books chosen will offer the chance to read from the contemporary authors that have made their mark in the countries of the European Community; thus revealing new talents and trends in the latest best sellers.

The books are all read in their English translation and will be discussed at a monthly meeting. In offering this new project, the Alliances open the door to members whose French may still be a "works in progress", but their interest in Europe can be embellished by these literary works.

During the season, our book club members met at 4 pm on Wednesday's at the "Montenero" in Pelican Bay. For an hour or more, once per month, we critiqued the chosen book, albeit we were a bit shaky at first with our comments. We did settle into a solid group of 10 and suggestions were made by members and other Alliances with book clubs. Everyone participated in the discussion and opinions and each person was encouraged to present a book. Our first season behind us, we will resume in the Fall. Our first meeting will be in November and the book that was chosen is: : "TROUBLES", by J.G. Farrell, the winner of the Lost Man Booker Prize. The story is Ireland's struggle for independence from England. The edition is available in paperback and ebook.

Susanne Kuhn, Director

Synopsis

1919: After surviving the Great War, Major Brendan Archer makes his way to Ireland, hoping to discover whether he is indeed betrothed to Angela Spencer, whose Anglo-Irish family owns the once-aptly-named Majestic Hotel in Kilnalough. But his fiancée is strangely altered and her family's fortunes have suffered a spectacular decline. The hotel's hundreds of rooms are disintegrating on a grand scale; its few remaining guests thrive on rumors and games of whist; herds of cats have taken over the Imperial Bar and the upper stories; bamboo shoots threaten the foundations; and piglets frolic in the squash court. Meanwhile, the Major is captivated by the beautiful and bitter Sarah Devlin. As housekeeping disasters force him from room to room, outside the order of the British Empire also totters: there is unrest in the East, and in Ireland itself the mounting violence of "the troubles".

Troubles is a hilarious and heartbreaking work by a modern master of the historical novel.
